

PCI Media Programs Intern (Unpaid)

PCI Media seeks an undergraduate student, graduate student, or recent graduate interested in joining our intern program and learning from our global communication programs for social change and development around the world. We are looking for individuals who are creative, passionate, good writers, and that want to experience being part of a multi-cultural and international team. This is a remote, unpaid internship. In order to be eligible for this program, you must be enrolled in an institution of learning currently or during the preceding semester and have not yet graduated.

We work with each intern to create a schedule that works for them for the duration of their internship, typically 2 to 4 months.

If you're interested in gaining experience in communications for change throughout the world, are comfortable working in a multi-cultural environment, have a knack for being organized, are interested in gaining experience through a wide variety of opportunities, and if you are well versed in Microsoft Office Suite, then you might be a great fit as a PCI Media Programs Volunteer.

About PCI Media Impact

PCI Media is an award-winning, non-profit organization that produces culturally resonant television and radio programs and communication campaigns, in partnership with local and international organizations, to achieve national, regional and global impact.

At the heart of our work are compelling narratives that celebrate the positive and reflect our "Love Not Loss" approach to tackling difficult issues. We are a leader in the field of Social and Behavioral Change Communication (SBCC); the strategic use of communication to promote positive outcomes in health, environment, and social justice. Grounded in social science and communication theory, we employ a systematic, participatory process that utilizes television, radio, video, print, social media, interpersonal channels, and community mobilization to achieve defined objectives at the community, national and regional levels.

Together with our partners around the world, we have produced more than 5,000 episodes of 100 television and radio productions, reaching more than one billion people in over 60 countries.

For more information, please visit www.pcimedia.org.

Internship Description:

As a PCI Media Programs Intern, you will have the opportunity to gain first-hand programmatic experience in our thematic portfolios of work in Social Justice, Public Health, and the Environment. You will learn what it takes to run national, regional, and global campaigns and have the opportunity to hone your skills in the following areas:

- Researching up to date information and program interventions on topics of interest to the Organization.
- Communications, e.g. blogs, social media, and internal/external communications.
- Program and communication team program deliverables.
- Design and develop Information, Education, and Communication (IEC) products.
- Monitoring and evaluation and report writing.
- Fundraising and administration

Areas of Interest

- Communication or public health/social justice/environment studies
- Interest in social justice, public health, and/or environmental/sustainable development issues
- Interest in learning about program planning, management, and evaluation skills
- Developing strong communication skills
- Interest in working in the non-profit sector
- Interest in working as part of team
- Organized and detail-oriented, yet also flexible
- Knows how to use Word, Excel, PowerPoint (Adobe InDesign a plus) or other office systems

How To Apply

Along with a resume, please send a cover letter that explains why you're interested in PCI Media, and what you consider important communications principles. Finally, tell us about the time frame when you would be available for your internship. We will review applications on a rolling basis. Please send your application with "Programs Intern" in the subject line to intern@pcimedia.org.

We will review applications on a rolling basis.